

Human Resources Invest in your most valuable asset

Delivering a multi-featured administrative and academic solution for colleges and universities; backed by a commitment to meet education-specific needs with industry best practices.

Top Benefits of Choosing Edulytics

- Rich, turnkey offerings for message collaboration
- Customization for your branding and identity
- Low cost acquisition and conversion
- Rapid adoption and implementation
- Low support costs
- Extensible framework for future products and services
- Predictable model of recurring expense

Human Resources

People are your most valuable asset. Edulytics understands this. We support various classes of faculty and employees, and the ability to cope with changing government regulations. In Human Resources, Edulytics combines technical skills and higher education expertise to comply with legislative mandates, adapt to evolving technology and policy standards, and most importantly, to provide administrators with the information needed to effectively perform their duties.

Meeting the Needs of Higher Education

Edulytics works with clients to help them solve their technology problems. This expertise and understanding of higher needs is reflected in the Human Resources System. Edulytics provides an answer for institutions that which to benefit from a best practices approach, thereby avoiding the expense required to develop custom applications. Edulytics is fully maintained and supported, and delivers proven functionality at greatly reduced cost and risk.

Collaboration and information sharing

Whether you collaborate with colleagues across campus or with students overseas, Edulytics lets you:

- compare notes
- share schedules
- work together on virtually any type of file

With Edulytics, administrators have direct access to all employee, applicant and position information, and the flexibility to retrieve information easily. Key human resource functions such as personnel, applicant tracking and position management are fully integrated. Interactive processing provided immediate and up-to-date answers.

Edulytics security permits decentralized operation of the solution. Table-defined options allow you to change the system to meet your expanding requirements.

9501 Gladiolus Blossom Court
Fort Myers, FL 33908
(239) 689-4539
info@edulytics.com